What OnlyRound is, in one breath

“OnlyRound runs your screening round with voice AI. Candidates apply, scan a QR, or get called. Recruiters get an explainable report and only meet candidates worth meeting.”

~500

agentic interviews per day
on the platform today

- 1 Sell the replacement, not new AI spend OnlyRound replaces the manual phone-screen effort and static assessment budget the buyer already has. It is not a new line item to justify.
- 2 Name only two logos eClerx and Digitide are the referenceable enterprise deployments. No other client names on the floor or in collateral.

The screening engine

The core loop: create a role, reach candidates inbound or outbound, run the voice interview, apply the client's criteria.

Agentic job setup

Paste a JD; the platform generates the interview agent for that role.

Voice AI interviews, audio + video

Full first-round interviews conducted by the agent, in audio or video mode.

Two-way reach: inbound + outbound

Inbound via QR or link on the candidate's own phone; outbound via dialer on uploaded lead lists.

Multilingual + live language switch

English and Hindi, with mid-call switching when the candidate changes language.

Custom evaluation criteria

Must Have / Good To Have / Red Flag per role, with separate tracks for experienced and freshers.

Candidate FAQ handling

Bot answers salary, shift, and document questions from a client-loaded knowledge base.

Screening is the entry point, not the ceiling. Assessment modules on the next slide attach to any screening round, or run as a dedicated assessment round.

Attachable assessment modules

The same platform assesses, not just screens. Each module below can be switched on inside a screening round or combined into a deeper assessment round.

CEFR English assessment

Built-in English grading on the CEFR scale; usable as a score or a hard gate (e.g. minimum B1 on Loan Sales).

Enterprise question banks + randomizer

Clients upload their own questions; randomized per candidate to prevent answer leakage.

Industry knowledge tests

Domain checks per role, e.g. BFSI product questions on the Credit Card and Insurance bots.

Behavioral evaluation

Communication, negotiation, customer and objection handling, as run on the Deep Interview round.

Proctoring on video rounds

Integrity checks on video interviews for assessment-grade rigor.

The pitch line: “One platform, screening and assessment. Turn modules on per role instead of buying a separate assessment tool.”

Governance, workflow & commercial

What makes it enterprise-grade rather than a point tool: control, auditability, and self-serve commercials.

Custom Gen AI reports

Per-job reports shaped around the questions asked and the data the client wants analyzed.

Candidate CRM view

Full timeline per candidate: every call, WhatsApp, email, outcome, and timestamp.

Configurable re-engagement

Client sets retries, channels (call / WhatsApp / email), and cadence for drop-offs and no-pickups.

RBAC + multi-tenant

Role-based access control with enterprise governance across tenants.

Governance dashboard

Every candidate, every interview, full audit trail in one view.

Credits + self-serve

Buy credits, upload leads, and run screening at your own pace.

How to use these three slides: lead with the prospect's pain, then name only the 2-3 capabilities that answer it. Never read the full list.

Core screening - the default demo

Start every demo here. English Credit Card Sales is the most polished path: inbound for the QR magic moment, outbound to show the dialer on uploaded leads.

FAQ

SAY & SHOW

Have the prospect scan or open the link and take a 2-minute interview themselves. Mid-call, tell them to ask the bot “do I need to pay a joining fee?” to show FAQ handling. Then open the dashboard and walk their own evaluation.

Lead upload

SAY & SHOW

Show the lead-upload flow and how the dialer takes over from there: retries, channels, and every attempt logged against the candidate. Do not dial live at the booth; walk pre-completed calls instead.

Hindi screening & live language switch

For any prospect hiring in Hindi-speaking markets. The switch moment lands hardest: answer in Hindi, then drift to English, and let them hear the bot follow.

Lang switch

SAY & SHOW

Same flow as the English default, in Hindi. Prompt the prospect to switch languages mid-answer and watch the bot follow. FAQ handling works here too.

Proof that vernacular works on the outbound dialer, not just inbound. Show completed Hindi call recordings and their evaluations in the dashboard.

Video interviews & proctoring

For prospects who ask “how do you stop cheating?” or need assessment-grade rigor. Video rounds carry proctoring; the Deep Interview adds behavioral evaluation.

Hard gates & vertical breadth (BFSI)

Loan Sales shows a CEFR level working as a pass/fail criterion. Insurance proves the same engine spins up a new BFSI vertical without rebuild.

CEFR B1 gate

SAY & SHOW

Open the criteria: minimum CEFR B1 is a Must Have. Then show a report where the English grade decided the outcome. This is the answer to “can it enforce our language bar?”

Hindi twin of the Insurance bot. Pair with the Loan Sales gate to tell one story: vernacular reach plus enforceable quality bars.

Retail & the interview scheduling agent

Two demos that widen the story: a retail role running enterprise question banks, and an agent whose whole job is booking the interview, not screening.

Question bank

SAY & SHOW

Retail vertical proof. Highlight the randomized question bank: the enterprise's own questions, shuffled per candidate so answers can't leak between candidates.

Scheduling

SAY & SHOW

A different round type entirely: the agent's job is to get the candidate booked for an in-person interview and capture the committed date and time. Use it when the prospect's pain is no-shows, not screening.
